Torrance Development Will Help Market "Buena Vista Estates"

Announcement was made this week that the Torrance Development Company, real estate dealers of 1263 Cabrillo avenue, had entered into an agreement with the Frank Meline Company of Los Angeles to participate in the marketing in this territory of Buena Vista Estates, beautiful area of small farms in northern San Diego county.

The announcement was made in the form of an invitation to local residents to stop at the local office, obtain literature on the culture of avocados, citrus and winter vegetables, crops which are particularly adapted to Buena Vista, and finally, to take a trip to the property if interested.

The Buena Vista property is eight miles inland from Carlsbad, in the heart of the Vista irrigation district which has been called "the natural home of the avocado." It obtains water from Lake Henshaw, largest impounding reservoir in Southern California which now has a six-year supply of water stored.

The water is distributed through Buena Vista Estates in steel high pressure pipes.

Although Buena Vista is particularly noted as an outstanding avocado territory, much of the acreage there is planted to winter vegetables and to citrus fruits. The combination of even climate, rich soil and assured water supply has made the area develop rapidly in recent months. Widely diversified crops flourish and the entire community is now enjoying a remarkable development. Home seekers and those who desire a week end estate close enough to Los Angeles and San Diego to allow them easy travel to their town business have both found Buena Vista Estates ideally suited to their needs. Residents have adopted the slogan "where living is better and easier."

Torrance does not participate in the Los Angeles Community Chest.

Residents of Torrance are requested by the Chamber of Commerce to remember that next month Torrance will conduct a campaign for funds for the Torrance Relief Society. This organization handles all local charitable work without any overhead charge.

The directors of the Chamber do not wish to detract from the importance of the Community Chest in Los Angeles but merely to remind Torrance people that this city does not participate in the Chest, but handles its own charitable work.

spirit of France. It was this spirit which won the first battle of the Marne and saved Paris.

The Allies took inventory of Germany's material resources after the war and stripped the Germans of their goods. But they could not commandeer German brains and alertness. Wherefore the aim of the Versailles treaty was wide, its purpose frustrated.

The treaty robbed Germany of the means by which traditional methods might be followed in trade, finance and industry. Germany had to invent new methods. Doing so she improved on the old and in a few short years has stepped out in front of her European competitors.

Good Customer

A FRIEND of ours came into the STORE the other day and we noticed that his FINGER was WRAPPED up and we asked him what had HAPPENED and he said his WIFE always uses his old RAZOR BLADES to do VARIOUS things with when she SEWS and she left one in the BUREAU drawer and he was hunting a COLLAR BUTTON—and you know the REST. But we sold him some GAUZE and some ADHESIVE TAPE, and then he bought some MORE RAZOR BLADES, (what d'you know about that!) and some SHAVING CREAM and when we suggested some CANDY for the WIFE to make up for the MEAN things he must have SAID to her, he LAUGHED and said he guessed maybe he HAD and took along a box of PAGE & SHAW CHOCOLATES.

Moral: Wives, try this on your husbands.

"GEORGE."
